SUMMER, 1972

FALLING LEAVES:

At the Spring meeting of the Genealogical Society of Vermont we had two speakers from the Historical Society in Montpelier. They came to tell us what their Library can do for us and what Montpelier has to offer genealogists who come to do research. I will attempt to condense this talk and retain the most salient points.

We had a double treat that afternoon of May 20th, when Mrs. Robert Webster and Mrs. Ellen Hill told of their interesting experience, beginning in 1930 with the finding of a grave stone of a man who had been killed by Indians, and ending with the writing of a book.

The Indian stone had disappeared by the time they got back to it, which led them to decide--some one should start recording these before all information was lost. Wearing rubber boots, armed with paper, pens, and clipboards, toting a jug of water, brush, rag and putty knife, they started out, usually quite early in the morning. The putty knife removed anything gathered on the stone, the morning dampness and early light made easier the reading of the stones. They soon learned too, that a ripping bar was necessary to pry some stones out of the ground.

All information on the stone should be written down, and on the same paper where it is found, name and number of the road, which side of it, any pertinent direction of how to get there. Both stones and Cemeteries are easily lost.

Many of the smaller private Cemeteries are not kept up by the towns, and are thus sadly in need of repair. One idea is to encourage volunteer help by school children and attempt to whet their interest in this restoration.

The expanding result of all this work since 1930 is the publishing of a book which is now available: "Cemeteries of East Montpelier, Vermont 1795-1971". It is an Inventory of eight cemeteries and nine burial places with poetry. Mimeo, 124 pages, 8 1/2 x 11, paper cover, spiral. Has a map, veterans of Wars, index with 2700 names, 603 surnames. Price $5.00 postpaid.

Mrs. Webster and Mrs. Hill are also planning to write a History of East Montpelier and include genealogies of several families, especially some of the early settlers, among them the Templeton and Dodge families

We are sorry to note the loss of one of our members, Mrs. Eva S. Edwards of Burlington, who died May 3, 1972 after a long illness. Mrs. Edwards was a charter member of our society.

Thomas Fleury won the door prize at the last meeting, a copy of the book "Know your ancestors" by Ethel W. Williams.

BUDDING OUT:

At our next meeting in October Mrs. Alton Swan of Rutland is going to talk about different styles of genealogical charts and Mrs. John W. Burke of Middlebury is going to speak on "Advertising for your Ancestors" and wants to round up the names of as many magazines, newspapers, genealogical journals etc. as possible that carry query departments, free or paid. If you have any suggestions for either one, I am sure they will appreciate them.

We now have a total of 25 states represented on our membership list, that half of our goal of all 50 states. The four new states are North and South Carolina, Maine and Iowa. We now have over 200 members, 70 are from other states.

Good NEWS!! A History and Genealogy of COLRAIN, Mass. is being written by Mrs. Lois M. Patrie, 207 Pawling Ave. TROY, N.Y. 12180 Is to be published this fall.

One of our members, Mr. F. Winston is President of the new Society "Wisconsin State Old Cemetery Society" recently organized there. He says it is growing very fast.

Another member, Mrs. Maurice Carter, is very active and much interested in the new Historical Society, just organized in HOLLAND, VT. A 100 year old church is being restored for use as a historical center.

Mrs. Carter has also, through her wide knowledge of the cemeteries in the Holland area, been able to send the information asked by Mr. Stanley Moore, A-134 in the Spring issue of BRANCHES AND TWIGS.

Mr. Charles G. Bennett, Librarian at the Bennington Museum, has been exceedingly generous with his time and knowledge in answering the Queries of A-110, Miss Lillian Livingston, and A-159, Mrs. H.M. Helgen, Mr. Bennett kindly made copies of all this material and sent same to your Archivist, so that made us all very happy!!!

SPRUCE GUM:

The society expresses its appreciation for the first contribution to its Permanent Fund, received as a memorial gift from Mr. Hildreth Martin in memory of his wife, Georgia Palmer Martin, and her interest in genealogy. Mrs. Martin was an avid genealogist, did a great deal of research work, charted the family trees of a number of friends and relatives. She was a Magna Charta Dame and a member of the DAR.

In accordance with our by-laws, a new permanent fund has been established for gifts, donations and contributions to the society. An interest-bearing savings account entitled GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY OF VERMONT (PERMANENT FUND) has been opened in the Burlington Savings Bank. It has the stipulation that only the interest is payable on authorization of the GSV executive board.

From an anonymous donor the society has received a copy of the book entitled "American Boynton Directory", containing addresses of all known Boyntons. It was compiled by John Farnham Boynton of Syracuse, N.Y. and written in 1884.

Mr. F. Winston Luck, 4319 North 70th St. Milwaukee, Wisconsin 53216 Does anyone have A-107 information of a PARKS family of Northern Vermont or possibly Southern Quebec around the year 1800?? I am trying to locate the birthplace, parentage, and marriage date of one SARAH ANN PARKS, "from Vermont", who married circa 1806 one TILLEY BLAKLEY of Stanbridge, Quebec. Said SARAH ANN was born about 1791, according to the information from her gravestone in the small Protestant Cemetery in Pike River, Quebec.

Mr. F. Winston Luck is also seeking the birthdate and birthplace, as well as proof A-107(b) positive of the parentage of TILLEY BLAKLEY born circa 1768, doubtless in the "Grants". His parents were TILLEY BLAKLEY and MERCY BAKER of Woodbury (Roxbury) Conn. Said MERCY BAKER was first cousin to General Ethan Allen and Captain Remember Baker.

Mr. F. Winston Luck is also seeking TILLEY BLAKLEY who married SARAH ANN PARKS circa A-107(c) 1806 was married first to one RHODA ROWLEY. His brother ZACHEUS BLAKLEY was married to ROXANA ROWLEY. These two couples were married circa 1796, and were in Stanbridge, Quebec where their first children were born before 1800. Can anyone place these ROWLEY girls in some definite place so that we can find further information about the whereabouts of TILLEY and ZACHEUS BLAKLEY???

Mr. F. Winston Luck is also seeking the date and place of death of Revolutionary A-107(d) soldier TILLEY BLAKLEY born in New Haven, Conn. In June 1731, but removed with his parents to Woodbury, Conn. by 1734. His services were from Connecticut. His wife MERCY BAKER died in 1792 in Woodbury, and all traces of him disappear after that. Since his brother DAVID BLAKLEY and wife PHOEBE HALL (aunt of Gov. Hiland Hall of Vt.) were living in Vermont, I feel that perhaps TILLEY went to Vermont and died there.

Mr. George Kendall Pine, 7591 Rosanna St. Gilroy, Calif. 95020, would appreciate any A-192 family history that might be available, specifically the following-- (a) Who was the first PINE of this family that came to America? When was the trip made and from what country did he leave? Tradition says the PINES came from Italy or France, but no accurate information is known.

Mr. George Kendall Pine also wishes to know about his great grandfather, SARDIS R. PINE A-192(b) traveled to San Francisco in 1849 or 1850. I have never been able to obtain any information as to when, how, nor of his return to Vermont 1 or 2 years before his death.

Mr. George Kendall Pine also wishes what information is available as to the PATTEN A-192(c) family coming to this country?

John Wilbur Armstrong, Berea College, Box 74, Berea Ky., 40403 seeks information about A-193 DR. SAMUEL WHITNEY of Isle LaMotte whose daughter, SUSAN WHITNEY m. ABNER LADD, 24 May 1824 and lived at North Hero. Where did SAMUEL WHITNEY come from and who were his ancestors?

Mr. Armstrong (address as above) also seeks information about JOHN PRENTISS BROWN, son A-193(b) of JOSEPH & ANNIS (KNIGHT) BROWN who had moved from IRA, Vt. to Middletown, where Joseph died 1812. John's brother SOLOMON then took widow ANNIS by ox-drawn sled to East Canton, Penna, (in 1815). Did JOHN PRENTISS BROWN live in Middletown then? He married POLLY EARL (1781-186-) probably in July 1801, but where? The two are next located by census in Hartford, New York in 1810. Who was POLLY EARL??

Evelyn R. Sprague, 112 Calabasas Road Watsonville, Calif. 95076 is researching the A-194 HATCH family from Vermont. Her problem--Who were the parents, brothers, sisters, etc. of JOSEPH HATCH born 1802-05 Chelsea, Orange County, Vt.? Where did they come from? Who did this JOSEPH marry? Did he have any children, if so, who were they, and where born??

Miss Elizabeth E. Jewett of Cornwall, Rt. 1, Middlebury, Vt. needs to prove parentage A-195 of JESSEMIAH (JESSE) FARWELL. Burial records in Crown Point, N.Y. show the names of Jessemiah Farwell and wife MARY BROCKWAY are signed on the burial record of FRIEND FARWELL, who died in 1899 in Crown Point. FRIEND FARWELL was my great grandfather. I need data on Jessemiah Farwell (Jesse) born in the 1780's. Was he one of the several children of the Universalist Rev. William Farwell and wife Phoebe Crosby of North Charlestown, N.H.? The Rev. preached in Barre, Vt. and other places. This information would prove JESSE'S Parentage and complete my Farwell lineage back to Henry in 1636 of Boston, England.
