THE ARCHIVES OF THE Episcopal Diocese of Vermont

The Diocesan Archives house the official records of the Diocese as well as those of closed Congregations and the official acts of the Bishops.

The Diocesan records include a complete set of Convention Journals from 1790 to the present. These Journals, especially the earliest ones which include anecdotal as well as statistical records of the Congregation, contain valuable information for anyone researching the history of either the congregation or the community. While the official acts of the Bishops are recorded in the Convention Journals, there is a separate record of Confirmation records, 1854 to the present.

Since by Canon, the records of all closed congregations are to be deposited, the Archives have the records for the closed Congregations in the following places: Bakersfield, Cambridge, East Berkshire, East Fairfield, East Georgia (both Immanuel and Christ Emmanuel Mission), Enosburg Center, Fairfax (Buck Hollow), Fairfield, Guilford, Jeffersonville, Milton, Montgomery, North Troy, Pawlet (as recorded in the records of St. Paul's Misand Trinity Church. sion. Wells Granville, NY), Perkinsville, Tinmouth, Weathersfield and West Rutland. In addition, the Archives also have the record book of The Rev. Stephen Beach who was an early missionary in the Franklin County communities of St. Albans, East Berkshire, Fairfield and Sheldon.

The Archives are open by written request to anyone involved in researching the history of the town in which the congregation was located or the congregation in that town and for genealogical research. It is expected that the genealogical research is for personal use only and not intended for publication unless prior written permission has been obtained from either the Historiographer or the Bishop of the Diocese whose decisions regarding Archive policies are final.

Future plans include the publication of the Beach Record book, the records of St. Stephen's Church Tinmouth and the records of two of the Franklin Country Congregations for which we receive the most requests for information. They are Christ Church, Enosburg and Immanuel Church, East Georgia.

Additional information about the holdings of the Archives or sources for the history of the Anglican/Episcopal Church in Vermont from 1767 to the present can be obtained from Elizabeth E. Allison, Historiographer, 5 Rock Point Road, Burlington, VT 05401. (802) 863-3431 or email: eallison@dioceseofvermont.org.

REPORT ON SAWYER CEMETERY Workshop

On Saturday, July 22, 2000, about 25 people gathered at the Sawyer Cemetery for the workshop conducted by Charlie Marchant of the Vermont Old Cemetery Association. The ones traveling the farthest to help were two people from Virginia, one of whom is descended from Samuel Barker buried in the Sawyer Cemetery. We do not know of anyone else who can trace their ancestry back to a burial in the cemetery.

Charlie showed us about probing the ground to locate buried stones, digging around the stone, leaving enough space to avoid damaging the stone. We were also shown how to clean the stone and then how to glue them back together.

As was written in the last issue of the THGS Newsletter, the boundaries for the cemetery were much bigger than the present fenced in area. We do not know if there might be any gravestones in the unfenced part. We do know that over the years the area has been used for cattle grazing, which caused many broken stones. It appears that the placement of many of the stones are different than their original positions.

We have not been able to find a real early listing of the stones at the cemetery. However, in 1919 towns listed their cemeteries and those cards are interfiled with the vital records available at the Vital Records Office in Middlesex, VT. Tinmouth seems to have kept their copy of the cards and when the town records were filmed by the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints, the town's cards were also filmed. At the time Sawyer Cemetery was listed, E. C. Taylor was the town clerk. The cards seem to have been prepared by an Etta Hart. There are 60 burials listed on these cards.

In 1959 the cemetery was transcribed by three women of the Ann Story Chapter, DAR, Rutland, VT. At that time they found fifty burials. It is interesting that five of these burials were not listed back in 1919. The introduction to this DAR listing is as follows: "This Cemetery is located nearly at the end of a private road west of the Tinmouth Village Church on the right hand side of the road. The cemetery is in a disgraceful state of neglect. It is not fenced in and cattle from the neighboring farm are allowed to wander through at will. All of the stones except four or five, are down, broken and scattered throughout the plot, which at some Complete runs of all 96 issues of time must have been a sizable cemetery, perhaps the first in the village. Some of the town fathers are buried here as well as several Revolutionary War Soldiers."

Margaret Jenks has listed all the cemeteries in Tinmouth, visiting the Sawyer Cemetery in 1982 and 1984. She found 49 stones, but mentions eight stones that the DAR listing showed and she didn't find. One of the stones she lists as not finding If you know of other libraries with comis ----aham C. ----esbrough. That is one of the stones we found during the cemetery workshop; it is broken but appears to be for Abraham C. Cheesbrough shown on the 1919 listing.

We were hoping that by getting the DAR listing we would be able to know where the stones were originally. But it appears that the stones were broken and moved around prior to 1959 when the DAR listing was made.

One of the stones that is in fairly good condition is for Samuel Barker [carved by Enos Clark of Middletown]. However, we do not know where the base of this stone is. Dawn Hance was able to find a footstone with the initials S B on it, so we think the headstone and the footstone should be together. The footstone was very near the fence quite a distance from the headstone. A question: is the footstone near where the original grave was? If we could find a base that matches the headstone we would be able to know where Samuel Barker was buried.

There is a lot more work to be done at the cemetery and we hope to get together again to work on it. We would welcome the help of any of you who read this. Please get in touch with Gail Fallar, Town Clerk.

In 1982 I found the cattle still enjoying the shade of the cemetery. After a number of letters, a fence was installed. In 1984 the grass & weeds were so high, the stones were completely hidden. About three years ago, the brush and dead trees were removed. Lets work with our sister organization to get all our Vermont cemeteries in good condition.
